1	National School Lunch Program and School Breakfast Program: Nutrition Standards for All Foods Sold in School as Required by the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010	75 FR 41796	7/19/2010	According to the Congressional Research Service (CRS), the school lunch and breakfast programs cost more than $15 million annually in mandatory spending	The regulations have proven to be burdensome and unworkable for schools to implement. Schools are throwing food away that students are not eating.	https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2010/07/19/2010-17507/national-school-lunch-special-milk-and-school-breakfast-programs-national-average-paymentsmaximum
2	National Forest System Land Management Planning	36 CFR Part 219	10/12/2016	According to CRS, discretionary spending for the program was $1,509.4	These rules are excessively burdensome. They allow the forest service to maintain lands not designated by congress as federal lands. For the administrative units of the NFS there are 127 land management plans, 68 of which are past due for revision. Most plans were developed between 1983 and 1993 and should have been revised between 1998 and 2008, based on the National Forest Management Act (NFMA) direction to revise plans at least once every 15 years (16 U.S.C. 1604(f)(5)). The repeated efforts to produce a new planning rule over the past decades contributed to the delay in plan revisions.	https://www.regulations.gov/document?D=FS-2016-0005-0001

26	Student Assistance General Provisions, Federal Perkins Loan Program, Federal Family Education Loan Program, and William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program	34 CFR ch VI	11/1/2013	Transfers range from $182 million to $5.8 billion annually	Requiring the new form and financial documentation to be provided upfront will delay the process of helping the borrower toward financial success. Completing lengthy forms which often require multiple conversations and then requesting financial document when the borrower may not be in hardship burdens the process, creates confusion, and invades the privacy of the borrower.	https://www.regulations.gov/docket?D=ED-2013-OPE-0063
27	Gainful Employment	34 CFR Parts 600 and 668	7/1/2015	Aggregated, the department's cost estimate was $205 million per year; $51.55 per student	Gainful Employment, Title I stipulates that a university must provide a program that prepares students for "gainful employment." The U.S. Department of Education has been aggressive in promulgating rules on gainful employment during the Obama Administration.	https://www.regulations.gov/document?D=ED-2014-OPE-0039-2390
28	Teacher Preparation Issues	81 FR 81006	11/17/2016		Federal mandate on schools and institutions of higher education. Also, asks the question of whether or not it is the Federal Government's role to regulate how teachers prepare.	https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2016/11/17/C1-2016-24856/teacher-preparation-issues

These acts prohibit discrimination and ensure that students all have equal access to critical public educational goods.	34 C.F.R. § 106.8(a)	5/13/2016		This guidance has been in burdensome states like NC, VA, etc. This letter goes further, much further, and tells all American universities that they must define prohibited sexual harassment as "unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature" that "can include unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, nonverbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature, such as sexual assault or acts of sexual violence."	http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/letters/col-league-201504-title-ix-coordinators.pdf
30	Office for Civil Rights Title IX guidance document on sexual assault and campus rapes		4/4/2011		The Title IX guidance document on sexual assault and campus rapes has pressured colleges to spend hundreds of millions of dollars, and to create vast campus bureaucracies which drain tuition revenue, to investigate allegations of sexual assault (primarily date rapes, the incidence of which may be overestimated), and virtually dictates one-size-fits-all procedures which provide less protection to the accused, and deny the often-innocent accused basic due process rights. As a result, many complainants are discouraged from reporting rapes to the local law enforcement.	http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/letters/colleague-201104.pdf
31	Office for Civil Rights Title IX Religious List				Under the Title IX statute and its implementing regulation at 34 C.F.R. § 106.12, Title IX does not apply to an educational institution that is controlled by a religious organization to the extent that application of Title IX would be inconsistent with the religious tenets of the organization. We should be repealing this law, not issuing new changes. Just the first round of regulations to implement ObamaCare required more than 2000 pages in the Federal Register. Many people had to write and vet those 10,516,000 words. Taxpayers paid them to do that. And they paid again every time that Washington rewrote the law: 70 major changes and thousands of smaller alterations. Next came the implementation and compliance phase. Taxpayers paid the salaries plus benefits for tens of thousands of administrators, accountants, agents, bureaucrats, compliance officers, reviewers, and navigators to implement the law along with the lawyers to defend it both in federal courts and in the Supreme Court: five times so far. They also paid indirectly for the added costs of new regulations imposed on insurance companies that were passed on to consumers. The more money spent on bureaucracy, the less is available to pay for our healthcare. This phenomenon is known as bureaucratic diversion."	https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2016/12/22/2016-30433/patient-protection-and-affordable-care-act-benefit-and-payment-parameters-for-2018-amendments-to

147	Executive Order - Waive Requirements of Davis Bacon Act                      The Davis-Bacon Act of 1931 is a United States federal law that establishes the requirement for paying the local prevailing wages on public works projects for laborers and mechanics. It applies to "contractors and subcontractors performing on federally funded or assisted contracts in excess of $2,000 for the construction, alteration, or repair (including painting and decorating) of public buildings or public works". The act has been suspended five times by Presidents.			Significant changes in economic conditions, and the economic character of the construction industry since 1931, plus the passage of other wage laws, make the act unnecessary. After nearly 50 years, the Department of Labor has not developed an effective program to issue and maintain current and accurate wage determinations; it may be impractical to ever do so. The act results in unnecessary construction and administrative costs of several hundred million dollars annually (if the construction projects reviewed by GAO are representative) and has an inflationary effect on the areas covered by inaccurate wage rates and the economy as a whole.	Raises the costs to taxpayers for federal construction projects

153	Clarification of Employer's Continuing Obligation To Make and Maintain an Accurate Record of Each Recordable Injury and Illness	80 FR 57765	9/25/2015		The rule clarifies that employers must record all injuries and illnesses, even if they failed to comply with OSHA's record-keeping requirement at the time they occurred. OSHA has long held that an employer is obligated to record an injury or illness for five years after the end of the calendar year in which the injury or illness became recordable. "This means that if an employer initially fails to record a recordable injury or illness, the employer still has an ongoing duty to record that case." OSHA said in the final rule. "The recording obligation does not expire simply because the employer failed to record the case when it was first required to do so." The rule does not impose any new recordkeeping requirements on employers. 243	Net Neutrality	47 CFR Parts 1.8 and 20	6/12/2016		According to CEI's Ryan Radia, "One of the most controversial rules an agency has promulgated during the Obama administration arguably ran afoul of the APA's notice-and-comment process: the Federal Communications Commission's "network neutrality" regulation, which the FCC proposed in May 2014 and finalized in March 2015. When the agency proposed this rule, it indicated that it planned to rely on section 706 of the Telecommunications Act of 1996—in accordance with what FCC Chairman Tom Wheeler described as the "roadmap" offered by the D.C. Circuit's 2014 opinion in Verizon v. FCC, which invalidated a 2010 rule issued by the agency in the name of net neutrality."	https://www.regulations.gov/document?D=FCC-2015-0136-0001

Initiatives for Consideration

#	RULE	DOCUMENT CITATION OR CODE	EFFECTIVE/PUBLISHED DATE	COST OF RULE	NOTES	LINK
283	Office of Management and Budget Agency-wide blanket freeze on all pending federal rules and regulations until approved by Trump-appointed agency or department heads. Direct department heads: (1) not to send any proposed or final regulations to the Federal Register without approval by a Trump-appointed department or agency head; (2) to withdraw any regulations already submitted to the Federal Register, but not yet published, until approved by a Trump appointee; and, (3) for final rules already published in the Federal Register but that had not yet taken effect, to postpone the effective date for 60 days. OMB could allow exceptions for emergency or urgent situations relating to "critical health and safety functions," and it excluded regulations promulgated pursuant to statutory or judicial deadlines.				The House acted this past Congress to slow down Midnight rules. We should take up similar legislation to do so at the very beginning of next Congress and the administration, for its part, should do the same. As Majority Leader McCarthy said: "[We] write to caution you against finalizing pending rules or regulations in the Administration's last days... Moreover, such forbearance is necessary to afford the recently elected Administration and Congress the opportunity to review and give direction concerning pending rulemakings. Should you ignore this counsel, please be aware that we will work with our colleagues to ensure that Congress scrutinizes your actions and, if appropriate, overturns them pursuant to the Congressional Review Act."
